Head's Hello

We have sent letters out in book bags today that will inform you of the class structure and the teacher your child will have next year. Due to the funding cuts affecting all schools and our numbers in each year group being too big to mix with just one other class and too small to be a single year class we have had to mix the age groups of all of the classes this year to keep classes at a manageable size.

We have increased our pupil numbers this year significantly, with people moving to our school from other settings having heard good things from their friends and family. Unfortunately, our budget is set on the October census from the previous year so we will not see the increase in funding until September 2022—when we hope to be able to teach in single year groups where possible.

We know that mixing year groups is never popular but we can assure you that our teachers and support staff are carefully planning the curriculum to meet the needs of your child and their year group expectations. Furthermore, there will be fluid groupings within the year groups and children will work with their year group peers in yoga, PE and other subjects where possible. Please do note however, the classes are provisional and subject to change if there are any staffing changes or any additional funding is announced.

We will be holding a 'transition week' Monday 19th July to Friday 23rd July so that your child can spend a week with their new teacher, teaching assistant and in their new classroom.

Natalie Simmonds
Headteacher
