Head's Hello,

With the half term holiday approaching, many of the children will be accessing apps and games online when they are at home. The internet is a great way to connect, create, learn and play but children need to be aware of the risks and responsibility of being a digital citizen. An app that lots of our children have been talking about is TIKTOK. Please be aware the age limit for this app is 13+ and the content is not suitable for primary aged children. The NSPCC have a brilliant and informative net aware guide for parents that you can access here <https://www.net-aware.org.uk/networks/tiktok/>

We will also be holding an Online Safety week in school from Monday 23rd March. Our safeguarding governor, Becca Ellis will hold an information talk during this week (date and time to be confirmed) for parents about how to help your children stay safe online. This is part of her job in the police and we are very lucky to have her expertise.

Wishing you a happy half term.
